

Session summary

Our heartbeat has only just calmed down to prepare for the next one. Just like Monaco a difficult circuit to master. Driving slowly seems to be the key to success. Something that sounds strange when we know you want to be the fastest.

Qualifying was both rainy and dry. At the end of Q2, the clouds cleared over Baku city and the moment of the red tires had arrived. The difference in times in Q1 was large, partly due to the level of difficulty, but also due to the dryness of the track. The fastest times are set at the very last moment, if you can keep the car under control. A very good time for Cringy with 1.37. Class done.

Incidents were minimum. Only in the first lap, second corner some damage was done. After that it all seemed to be clean. A fact that pleases us the most. Respect for others and very clean driving.

Thank you.

Tip: the delta of the VSC is not visible during the pitlane session. It caused a couple of players a DT penalty. Be aware of this, I can cost you the race.

Details per lap

L1-T2 IEPOVICH NL dive bombs in this turn. Not his intention, but this moment is worth a license point. The action is without many damage, but could have been worse. Escaapo and Lando could have been eliminated. WTZFLEX destroyed his own wing on Timmy. This is worth a warning for late braking.

L8-T19 Timmy crashed the car. DNF. VSC

L12-T12 EconomicBerry crashed the car. DNF. VSC

L23-T4 Denjef crashed the car. DNF. SC

MarkedCarp

Very strong start of the race. Shame of the retirement in the pits. And the DT penalty caused by the VSC. Good to see the performance you had. Want to see it more often!

DenJef

Strong qualify. The 2 stop strategy did not go your way. Also the DNF, just not your race. Also this is most likely your last race for now. Some activities are allowed again so you are not able to attend. Thank you, and we hope to see you soon again.

LandoFanClub

Your best performance in Qualy so far. Also the Monday practice was promising. Too bad the race wasn't going your way, but it does show your skills are going up!

Lexidas and DHR Graat

Disappointing Qualy for Lexidas, but once again driver of the day. Just keep calm, watch the cat of the tree, and do your thing. DHR Graat, also very good race.
